Toys for Tots

Christmas came early for the kiddies at the Duang Prateep Foundation on December 14 when a posse of 14 Americans from the U.S. Marine Corps and the U.S. Embassy visited to distribute toys and educational materials. For over 70 years, the Toys for Tots program has been a much-loved tradition of the Marines with more than 250 million children worldwide sharing in the magic of the Festive Season. Of course, Santa (looking a little thinner these days!) joined the group, which was led by marine, Gunny Greg Jamanila, and organized by Ms. Dusadee Haymond from the embassy. While on site, the visitors showed a keen interest in the children's Montessori and innovative English lessons before dishing out lunch to scores of hungry tots.
