CP Visit to DPF

On 7 July, a party from Thailand's largest agro-industrial and food company, Charoen Pokphand Foods PCL (CP), led by CEO and Executive Chairman, Mr. Suphachai Chearavanont, visited the DPF to donate 100 sacks of rice and 100 packs of eggs to families severely impacted by the Covid-19 crisis, plus 100 sets of Meiji milk to promote children's health now that schools have reopened. They were welcomed by Khru Prateep, students sponsored by CP and elderly residents of the slum. In addition, CP is supporting a special project at the New Life Projects in Kanchanaburi and Chumporn called "Raising Laying Hens Project," which will be a sustainable food source for the children's health in the future.

IVL Foundation visited the DPF

On 13 July, a party from IVL Foundation led by its director and treasurer, Mr. Souvik Roy Chowdhury, visited the DPF to donate 10 cages for recycling plastics. Khru Prateep and teachers from ten children's centers welcomed them and accepted the cages. The cages will be installed at the 10 children's centers in Klong Toey communities. Khru Prateep took the donors to the DPF Kindergarten and Lock 1-2-3 children's center. The children learn to put waste plastic materials in this cage and have fun too by throwing the plastic bottles through a mini-basketball hoop into the cage. Earlier during the Covid-19 crisis, IVL Foundation also kindly made a large financial donation to support the DPF's activities to protect against Covid-19 and to help people who are out of work. Thank you for your generous support.

Fire in Lock 1-2-3 Community

On 21 July, a fire broke out in the Lock 1-2-3 community of Klong Toey slum. The fire started in a house where recyclable waste materials are collected, sorted and stored. Nine homes were completely destroyed and 7 others severely damaged, with 61 residents affected. The DPF volunteer fire-fighters rushed to extinguish the blaze. Local organizations and government officials are providing assistance to the people who lost their homes.
